My dear Mr. Household

How sorry I am to have dropped from the Ken & my friends all this holiday time but you too have used part of it in being ill! I am glad to know it was only a bad cold which by the way is bad enough.

The last thing that came to me was a poem of classical freshness of theme & treatment of subject. I am afraid I always suspected that there was a lurking 'Poet's Corner' somewhere.

I have not been able to do anything but I have thought much from time to time & look forward to those few days of conference with you & Mr. Franklin say much indeed. The thing we have to handle is a big thing. It's sure almost takes my breath away for one hardly knows where it will go to.

Many thanks for letting me see the Conference paper. I am glad you dwell on the point of sound judgment.

with cordial affection.
